The personnel of the Battalion on this date consisted of 27 Officers and 85 enlisted men.

The 905th Field Artillery Battalion was originally organized as the 305th Ammunition Train, organized at Camp Lee, Virginia, in September, 1917, as a unit of the 80th Division of World War I. The Train served overseas and participated in battle. It returned to the United States and was demobilized at Camp Dix, New Jersey, 9 June, 1919. In order to perpetuate the history and traditions of the 305th Ammunition Train which served as a unit of the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I, it was, on 28 October, 1936, reconstituted and consolidated with the 305th Ammunition Train, which was constituted as a unit of the Organized Reserves, 24 June, 1921. The 305th Ammunition Train was redesignated the 905th Field Artillery Battalion, pursuant to letter from the War Department, AG 320.2 OB(1-22-42), dated 30 January, 1942, and ordered to be made active at Camp Forrest, Tennessee, effective 15 July, 1942, as a component of the 80th Division. The 905th Field Artillery Battalion is entitled to a streamer in the colors of the Victory Ribbon, inscribed:

World War:
Meuse Argonne.

The scarlet is the color of the Field Artillery; the suggested design is based primarily upon the past history of the battalion, the service in France in World War 1 is indicated by the Fleur-de-lis. The martial aspect of the organization is symbolized by the diagonal division of the shield, representing the heraldic bend, which anciently denoted the scarf of a military commander. The motto is appropriate to the expectation of a continuance of the past record

From this date until about August 15, the Battalion received filler replacements to bring it up to T/O strength.
