VII - Award of Purple Heart (Oak Leaf Cluster).

I. AWARD OF SILVER STAR. POSTHUMOUSLY: By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, the Silver Star Medal is awarded, posthumously, to the following named Officer and Enlisted Man:

Walter G. Hock, 36596126, Pfc, MD, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 10 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. During the early morning of 10 November 1944, Pfc Hock was called upon to attend an enlisted man who had been wounded in an anti-personnel mine field. Although he realized the danger of finding his way through the mine field in the darkness, Pfc Hock unhesitatingly and with utter disregard for his own personal safety made his way to the injured man to administer medical aid. Later Pfc Hock returned to the mined area to render aid to another comrade who had been severely wounded while clearing the field. He had reached the injured man when an exploding mine caused Pfc Hock fatal injuries. His outstanding courage, diligence, and unselfish devotion to duty exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Michigan.

JOHN R. PORTEOUS, 01184927, 2d Lt, FA, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 16 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 16 November 1944, while acting as a Forward Observer with a company of an infantry regiment during an attack on the enemy, Lt Porteous received wounds from shell fragments. Although urged to retire for treatment Lt Porteous, with complete disregard for his own safety and comfort, elected to remain as Forward Observer and complete his assignment. Repeatedly exposing himself to enemy fire, he continued in his mission until he received additional wounds which resulted in his death. The outstanding personal bravery, determination, and unselfish devotion to duty displayed by Lt Porteous exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from California.

II. AWARD OF SILVER STAR: By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, the Silver Star Medal is awarded the following named Officers and Enlisted Men:

WILLIS W. BROWN, 01320010, 1st Lt, Inf, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 22 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 22 November 1944, the machine gun platoon led by Lt Brown was in support of a rifle company given the mission of attacking toward a town in which friendly troops had been encircled by the enemy. As the attack neared the town they encountered extremely heavy mortar and artillery fire, during which time Lt Brown received shrapnel wounds in the back, arm, and leg. Disregarding his wounds, he continued to lead his platoon, personally placing the elements in position under continuous shelling. Knowing of the scarcity of medical supplies, he refused medical aid until all other casualties had been treated. The outstanding leadership, aggressiveness, and unselfish devotion to duty displayed by Lt Brown are in keeping with the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Kansas.

Wilson M. Huitt, 38208801, T Sgt (then S Sgt), Inf, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 8 October 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 October 1944, during an attack on the enemy, the platoon of which T Sgt (then S Sgt) was a member, was temporarily stopped by the fire of three machine guns which inflicted heavy casualties, wounding the platoon leader and killing the platoon sergeant. T Sgt (then S Sgt) Huitt, accompanied by a member of the platoon, with utter disregard for his own safety, moved forward and with rifle fire and hand grenades destroyed the three enemy machine guns, killing three and capturing eleven of the enemy. He then returned to the platoon, reorganized it and led them on the successful accomplishment of the mission. His leadership, personal bravery, and sincere devotion to duty are in keeping with the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Arkansas.

JOSEPH F. GRADY, JR, 01283244, 1st Lt, Inf, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November 1944, Lt Grady, executive officer of an infantry rifle company attacking a strongly held ridge, assumed command of the company when the company commander became a casualty. After he had reorganized the company, in the face of intense mortar and machine gun fire, he changed the direction of the attack and overran the machine gun positions, successfully taking the objective. Later a heavy mortar and artillery concentration, followed by a strong enemy counterattack, forced two platoons of his company to withdraw. Lt Grady immediately reorganized the company under extremely heavy artillery fire, and with utter disregard for his own safety, personally led the assault to retake the objective. The personal courage, aggressiveness, and zealous devotion to duty displayed by Lt Grady exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from New York.

Edwin L. Groschke, 38203292, S Sgt, Inf, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 1 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 1 November 1944, the platoon of which S Sgt Groschke was a member, was attacking in the vicinity of * * * *, France, when an adjacent platoon was temporarily stopped by fire from enemy machine guns. Realizing the situation and displaying cool courage and utter disregard for his own safety, S Sgt Groschke moved through intense enemy small arms fire to the side of a tank and although wounded, directed effective fire on the enemy positions, enabling the adjacent platoon to continue the advance. He later returned to his platoon and assisted in the successful capture of the town. The outstanding bravery, resourcefulness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by S Sgt Groschke exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Texas.

James J. Monahan, 42079889, Pfc, Inf, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November 1944, Pfc Monanan was outposting a road leading to an enemy held village when he was captured in the darkness by an enemy patrol led by an English speaking officer. The officer ordered Pfc Monahan to lead the patrol into the American lines, and in case they were halted by other outposts to say that it was an American patrol. As he led the patrol down the road, Pfc Monahan recognized a friendly outpost. At great personal risk, he called to the friendly troops, telling them he was an American leading an enemy patrol. In the ensuing fire fight Pfc Monahan made his way to safety. As a result of his action five of the enemy patrol, including the officer, were captured. The outstanding bravery, resourcefulness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Pfc Monahan exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from New York.

MELVIN F. SCHNELLER, 02046814, 1st Lt, MAC, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 8 and 9 November 1944; in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November 1944, during the crossing of the * * * * River, Lt Schneller, at the risk of his own life, remained for sixteen hours on and near an infantry support bridge, subjected to intense artillery and mortar fire, directing the evacuation of casualties across the river. On 9 November 1944, Lt Schneller, alone and with utter disregard for his own safety, removed five casualties from an area subjected to heavy enemy artillery fire. The outstanding bravery, initiative, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Lt Schneller exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Wisconsin.

William R. Zavagalia, 32674013, Pfc, Inf, Army of the United States. For gallantry in action in France on 8 October 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 October 1944, during an attack on the enemy, the platoon of which Pfc Zavagalia was a member, was temporarily stopped by the fire of three machine guns which inflicted heavy casualties, wounding the platoon leader and killing the platoon sergeant. Pfc Zavagalia, accompanied by a member of the platoon, with utter disregard for his own safety, moved forward and with rifle fire and grenades destroyed the three enemy machine guns, killing three and capturing eleven of the enemy. He then returned to the platoon, helped reorganize it and accompanied them on the successful accomplishment of the mission. His initiative, personal bravery, and sincere devotion to duty are in keeping with the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from New York.

III. AWARD OF BRONZE STAR: By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, the Bronze Star Medal is awarded the following named Officer and Enlisted Men:

FREEMAN D. BOOTH, 01289378, 1st Lt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic service in France on 7 October 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 7 October 1944, Lt Booth personally reconnoitered the terrain and chose the position of the supporting weapons in a coordinated attack on Hill 407 * * * * *, France, while under intense enemy artillery and mortar fire. The selection and digging of gun positions and the subsequent control of these weapons contributed greatly in the success of the attack. The personal bravery, resourcefulness, and constant devotion to duty displayed by Lt Booth exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Arkansas.

Adam E. Danner, 33012181, Pvt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 25 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 25 November 1944, Pvt Danner, a rifleman in an infantry rifle company, was selected by his company commander to crawl forward with him along parallel routes through a narrow woods to reconnoiter enemy entrenchments and defenses. When they had crawled to within sixty feet of an enemy trench, four of the enemy, unnoticed, began crawling toward the officer and when within range, the nearest prepared to throw a hand grenade at the company commander. Upon seeing this, Pvt Danner with utter disregard for his own safety, stood up and fired his rifle, wounding the enemy and by continuous firing drove the others back. The conspicuous bravery, initiative, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Pvt Danner exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Pennsylvania.

John W. Smith, 35359401, Pvt, FA, Army of the United States. For meritorious service in France during the period 1 - 6 October 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. Entered military service from Indiana.

IV. AWARD OF BRONZE STAR: By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, the Bronze Star Medal is awarded the following named Officers and Enlisted Man:

Lloyd A. Stone, 39232258, S Sgt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic service in France on 22 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 22 November 1944, the mortar section to which S Sgt Stone was assigned as mortar section leader, was in support of a rifle company having the mission of attacking a town. S Sgt Stone was operating with the forward elements of the rifle company as observer for his mortar section. As they advanced on the town the left flank of the company was temporarily halted by the flanking fire of an enemy machine gun and several enemy infantrymen. Unable to contact his mortar section due to communication difficulties, he immediately organized all available riflemen in the vicinity and personally led the assault in the face of automatic and small arms fire, successfully destroying the machine gun position and capturing the crew, thereby enabling the company to accomplish the assigned mission. The outstanding courage, leadership, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by S Sgt Stone exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from California.

RAYMOND N. TALCOTT, Oll65579, Capt, FA, Army of the United States. For heroic service in France during the period 6 August 1944, to 24 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. Capt Talcott distinguished himself in performing his duties as Liaison Officer in a superior manner. During a counterattack, when artillery communication was cut, he reestablished contact through two infantry radios and a telephone, enabling fire adjustment to be made and contributing greatly in repulsing the enemy. During an advance in the * * * * sector Capt Talcott personally called for and adjusted artillery fire on enemy positions while exposed to fire from machine guns and mortars. The personal bravery, resourcefulness, and constant devotion to duty displayed by Capt Talcott exemplify the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from California.

MARTIN J. WEGMAN, Ol285671, Capt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic service in France during the period 8 - 27 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. During the period 8 - 27 November 1944, Capt Wegman distinguished himself in performing his duties as Regimental S-2 of an infantry regiment in an outstanding manner. His ability to amass and analyze information of the enemy have repeatedly aided the success of the regiment. During an attack on 25 November 1944, Capt Wegman operated the Regimental OP and sustained severe artillery fire to furnish lucid and valuable information advancing and establishing the OP during the period the line was being attacked. On 26 November
