I. AWARD OF BRONZE STAR, POSTHUMOUSLY: By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, the Bronze Star Medal is awarded, posthumously, to the following named Enlisted Men:

Henry J. Hoffman, 35681243, Sgt, CAC, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 12 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 12 November 1944, in the vicinity of Baudrecourt, France, the platoon of which Sgt Hoffman was a member came under a heavy concentration of enemy artillery and mortar fire. A half-track and gun belonging to Sgt Hoffman's platoon was damaged and with total disregard for his personal safety Sgt Hoffman proceeded under heavy fire to the damaged destroyer unit and began repairing a wheel in order that the unit could proceed immediately into action. While thus engaged Sgt Hoffman lost his life when an enemy shell scored a direct hit on the half-track. His outstanding courage, initiative, and unselfish devotion to duty exemplify the finest ideals of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Ohio.

II. AWARD OF BRONZE STAR: By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, the Bronze Star Medal is awarded the following named Enlisted Men:

Steven Allen, 35787412, Pvt, MD, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 15 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 15 November 1944, Pvt Allen, member of a litter-bearer group, with utter disregard for his own safety, advanced through heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire to successfully complete the mission of evacuating a wounded officer. The outstanding bravery, determination, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Pvt Allen exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Kentucky.

Edward R. Baratta, 13124995, Tec 5, FA, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 7 September 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 7 September 1944, Tec 5 Baratta distinguished himself while serving with the forward observer as radio operator. Throughout an attack on the enemy and advancing across an open field which was under constant shell and small arms fire, Tec 5 Baratta, although wounded, maintained constant radio communication with the artillery battalion, giving the infantry the needed artillery support for the success of the attack. The outstanding bravery, aggressiveness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Tec 5 Baratta exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Pennsylvania.

James R. Bevins, 35649359, Tec 4, FA, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 17 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 17 November 1944, heavy enemy artillery fire severed the telephone line between the observation post, at which Tec 4 Bevins was stationed, and the battalion command post. With utter disregard for his own safety, Tec 4 Bevins and another enlisted man voluntarily proceeded in the face of constant artillery shelling to successfully repair the broken wire thereby reestablishing vital communications. The outstanding courage, resourcefulness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Tec 4 Bevins reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Kentucky.

Edward A. Fitzgerald, Jr, 36650258, S Sgt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November 1944, S Sgt Fitzgerald distinguished himself when his squad, in a village assault, was separated from their platoon by enemy machine gun and small arms fire, and could not determine the direction of the fire. With utter disregard for his own safety, S Sgt Fitzgerald ordered his squad to observe as he subjected himself to the intense fire by crossing the street. He successfully crossed the street three times but was wounded in the right arm on the third crossing. He then signalled his comrades as to the direction of fire, thus enabling the squad to drive the enemy from concealment and continue their advance. The outstanding courage, aggressiveness, and constant devotion to duty displayed by S Sgt Fitzgerald reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Illinois.

Grover W. Green, 34353980, Pfc, MD, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 15 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 15 November 1944, Pfc Green, member of a litter-bearer group, with utter disregard for his own safety, advanced through heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire to successfully complete the mission of evacuating a wounded officer. The outstanding bravery, determination, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Pfc Green exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Georgia.

Jefferson E. Hammond, 14036439, T Sgt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 9 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 9 November 1944, T Sgt Hammond distinguished himself in the performance of his duties as platoon sergeant. His mortar platoon was employed in a position to repel enemy counterattacks and had depleted the ammunition supply by the day's heavy firing. T Sgt Hammond volunteered to reconnoiter a route through a field known to be heavily mined in an effort to locate the ammunition dump. Alone, he traversed about three miles over the dangerous terrain and located the ammunition distributing point. Personally driving a truck, he successfully delivered the needed ammunition to the mortar positions while under heavy artillery fire. The outstanding bravery, resourcefulness, and sincere devotion to duty exhibited by T Sgt Hammond exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Georgia.

George C. Keister, 36017599, Sgt, CAC, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 13 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 13 November 1944, Sgt Keister distinguished himself while on duty with an AAA AW Battalion in support of an Infantry Division by his intrepidity in carrying a wounded member of his gun crew to safety while under heavy enemy shelling. The personal bravery, initiative, and constant devotion to duty exhibited by Sgt Keister reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Illinois.

Raymond Keszyinski, 31293713, Tec 5, CAC, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 21 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 21 November 1944, Tec 5 Keszyinski distinguished himself while on duty with an AAA AW Battalion in support of an Infantry Division. While driving on a reconnaissance mission for his commanding officer and a platoon officer, Tec 5 Keszyinski and the officers were suddenly caught in a heavy barrage of enemy shell fire which severely injured the platoon officer. Without regard for their own safety, Tec 5 Keszyinski and his commanding officer, in the face of the enemy fire, carried the injured officer from his exposed position to a protected defile, where the commanding officer administered to the needs of the injured officer while Tec 5 Keszyinski braved the enemy shelling to secure aid. The outstanding bravery, initiative, and constant devotion to duty displayed by Tec 5 Keszyinski reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Rhode Island.

Platoon

Clement K. Little, 42107707, Sgt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 11 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 11 November 1944, infantry and armored troops and vehicles were temporarily halted because of a German held bridge. Despite the constant danger, Sgt Little, in company with several comrades, fearlessly closed with the enemy and successfully assaulted their position. Sgt Little and his comrades courageously drove the enemy from this extremely vital bridge position thereby accomplishing the mission assigned. The personal bravery and zealous devotion to duty displayed by Sgt Little are commensurate with the finest ideals of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from New Jersey.

Edward J. Madden, 36335845, Pfc, Inf (Armd), Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 9 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 9 November 1944, Pfc Madden distinguished himself while serving as a crewman of an assault gun of a Tank Battalion in support of an Infantry Division. Under fire of enemy small arms, bazookas, and mortars situated in a village, and after having crashed a roadblock erected by the enemy, the assault gun in which Pfc Madden was serving was hit by an enemy bazooka shell which penetrated the front slope plate, wounding him and three other crew members, and started a fire among the cleaning materials. After assisting in extinguishing the fire Pfc Madden assisted in giving first aid and evacuating the other wounded comrades, refusing to be evacuated himself despite his wounds due to the shortage of men in the crew. This made it possible for the tank to continue in the attack and place a covering fire for the advancing infantry. The outstanding bravery, aggressiveness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Pfc Madden reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Illinois.

Warren L. March, 33185324, Sgt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 17 September 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 17 September 1944, Sgt March distinguished himself in performing his duties as wire chief by laying wire through an area covered with exploding artillery and mortar shells and small arms fire to maintain communication lines to the attacking companies of the battalion. His valorous actions contributed greatly to the success of the operation against the enemy. The courage, initiative, and sincere devotion to duty shown by Sgt March exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Pennsylvania.

Richard Maxwell, 39910897, Pfc, FA, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 17 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 17 November 1944, heavy enemy artillery fire severed the telephone line between the observation post, at which Pfc Maxwell was stationed and the battalion command post. With utter disregard for his own safety, Pfc Maxwell and another enlisted man voluntarily proceeded in the face of constant artillery shelling to successfully repair the broken wire thereby reestablishing vital communications. The outstanding courage, resourcefulness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Pfc Maxwell reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Utah.

Floyd R. McConnell, 37360800, Tec 5, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 17 September 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 17 September 1944, Tec 5 McConnell distinguished himself in performing his duties as linesman by laying wire through an area covered with exploding artillery and mortar shells and small arms fire to maintain communication lines to the attacking companies of the battalion. His valorous actions contributed greatly to the success of the operation against the enemy. The courage, initiative, and sincere devotion to duty shown by Tec 5 McConnell exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Missouri.

III. AWARD OF BRONZE STAR: By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, the Bronze Star Medal is awarded the following named Officers and Enlisted Men:

Howard E. Millage, 36118630, S Sgt, FA, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 12 October 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 12 October 1944, S Sgt Millage distinguished himself while serving with a Tank Destroyer Battalion in support of an Infantry Division. S Sgt Millage, in company with another enlisted man, proceeded forward in the face of constant enemy shell and mortar fire, to successfully evacuate a disabled half-track primemover. The courage, resourcefulness, and devotion to duty exhibited by S Sgt Millage exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Michigan.

Maurice F. J. Noon, 32058896, S Sgt, CAC, Army of the United States. For meritorious achievement in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. S Sgt Noon distinguished himself while serving with an AAA AW Battalion in support of an Infantry Division, by his ingenuity and foresight in the construction of a device which rendered usable the "20 man cookers" which had failed due to constant use and the difficulty in procuring spare parts to replace those worn out. The diligence, prevision, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by S Sgt Noon exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from New Jersey.

FRANK S. PARKER, JR, 01319330, 1st Lt, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November 1944, Lt Parker was leading a mortar section, displacing forward in support of an assaulting rifle company when an enemy force of approximately 30 men attacked his section from the rear apparently endeavoring to separate the assaulting company from the remainder of the battalion. Quickly recognizing the threat Lt Parker advanced, firing his carbine, killing two of the enemy who were too close to be engaged with mortar fire. Under his direction the mortar section, armed with pistols and carbines, then deployed and completely annihilated the enemy, killing fifteen and wounding the remainder. The outstanding bravery, leadership, and devotion to duty displayed by Lt Parker exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from New York.

Martil A. Raditz, 33596261, Sgt, Inf (Armd), Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 9 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 9 November 1944, Sgt Raditz distinguished himself while serving as a gunner of an assault gun with a Tank Battalion in support of an Infantry Division. Under fire of enemy small arms, bazookas, and mortars situated in a village, and after having crashed a roadblock erected by the enemy, the assault gun in which Sgt Raditz was serving was hit by an enemy bazooka shell which penetrated the front slope plate, wounding him and three other crew members and started a fire among the cleaning materials. After assisting in extinguishing the fire Sgt Raditz assisted in giving first aid and evacuating the other wounded comrades, refusing to be evacuated himself despite his wounds due to the shortage of men in the crew. This made it possible for the tank to continue in the attack and place a covering fire for the advancing infantry. The outstanding bravery, aggressiveness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Sgt Raditz reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Pennsylvania.

Rex R. Roggasch, 37117822, Pvt, FA, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November 1944, Pvt Roggasch distinguished himself while serving with a Tank Destroyer Battalion in support of an Infantry Division. With utter disregard for his own safety Pvt Roggasch, in company with another enlisted man, voluntarily traversed terrain under constant enemy observation and machine gun, artillery, and mortar fire, to lay a telephone wire connecting the company CP with the battalion. After successfully accomplishing this mission, Pvt Roggasch and his companion then voluntarily proceeded over an identically hazardous route to successfully repair the telephone line connecting the regimental CP with the battalion, which line had been severed by an enemy mortar shell. The aggressiveness, initiative, and constant devotion to duty displayed by Pvt Roggasch reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Iowa.

Merton L. Schnur, 36252742, Tec 4, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 17 September 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 17 September 1944, Tec 4 Schnur distinguished himself in performing his duties as radio operator by advancing with the leading elements of his battalion in an attack against the enemy. By his intrepidity he reached the OP where, under intense enemy fire, he transmitted vital messages necessary to the success of the attack. The outstanding courage, initiative, and sincere devotion to duty exhibited by Tec 4 Schnur exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Wisconsin.

Vincent H. Shafer, 35502374, Tec 3, MD, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 20 August 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 20 August 1944, Tec 3 Shafer distinguished himself by his conspicuous bravery in twice traversing an open field to evacuate wounded comrades under intense enemy fire. The outstanding courage, determination, and constant devotion to duty exhibited by Tec 3 Shafer reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Ohio.

Clarence C. Steakley, 35359889, Pfc, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November the battalion to which Pfc Steakley was assigned as a runner, had the mission of assaulting and seizing a strongly held village. The advance of the rifle companies was temporarily halted due to heavy enemy automatic and small arms fire from the village. Pfc Steakley, with the leading elements of the battalion, volunteered to contact the right flank machine gun platoon in order to direct their fire against the enemy positions. Drawing intense automatic and small arms fire as he crawled, he successfully made his way to the platoon's position, pointing out the enemy positions for the machine gun platoon leader with such accuracy that in a few moments the enemy fire was silenced, and the assault continued with the result that the village was secured. The aggressiveness, initiative, and zealous devotion to duty exhibited by Pfc Steakley reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Indiana.

Selmer L. Storberg, 36251175, Pvt, MD, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 15 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 15 November 1944, Pvt Storberg, member of a litter-bearer group, with utter disregard for his own safety, advanced through heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire to successfully complete the mission of evacuating a wounded officer. The outstanding bravery, determination, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Pvt Storberg exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Wisconsin.

7 DONALD P. TODD, 01165580, 1st Lt, FA, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 8 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 8 November 1944, Lt Todd distinguished himself while serving as a forward artillery observer with an infantry battalion. In an attack against the enemy he was separated from his radio and enlisted detail by heavy enemy action but continued to advance with one of the infantry companies in an assault against a heavily defended hill. During the assault, one of the infantry platoon leaders was seriously wounded, whereupon Lt Todd assumed command of the platoon and led it to the successful completion of the assault. The leadership, initiative, and devotion to duty displayed by Lt Todd exemplify the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from California.

PHILIP H. WAGNER, 01032403, 1st Lt (then 2d Lt), Cav, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France during the period 15 - 18 September 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 15 September 1944, Lt Wagner led his reconnaissance platoon through the enemy lines in the vicinity of Letricourt, France, and there made a reconnaissance of the surrounding terrain, relaying the vital information to higher headquarters. During the three days Lt Wagner and his platoon spent on reconnaissance behind the enemy lines a series of fifteen separate engagements was fought with elements of the enemy forces. By his excellent management of supplies, the platoon, led by Lt Wagner, was able to survey a large area of enemy territory. The sound strategy and heroic leadership displayed by Lt Wagner is directly responsible for the accomplishment of this mission and the safe return of his entire platoon without loss of personnel or damage to equipment. His courage, initiative, and sincere devotion to duty exemplify the finest ideals of the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Ohio.

Robert L. Walker, 33410929, Tec 5 (then Pfc), Cav, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 31 August 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 31 August 1944, Tec 5 (then Pfc) Walker, together with one companion, was returning under cover of darkness from an assigned mission. The vehicle in which they were riding collided with another vehicle containing two occupants. Although severely injured, Tec 5 (then Pfc) Walker immediately set about administering first aid to his injured comrades. He then walked four miles through a wooded territory, then partially in the hands of the enemy, to secure means of evacuation for the injured persons at the scene of the collision. Only after personally directing aid to the scene of the accident did Tec 5 (then Pfc) Walker accept medical attention for his own injuries. His fortitude, resourcefulness, and devotion to duty reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Pennsylvania.

Malcolm L. Watson, 33300990, Cpl, Inf, Army of the United States. For heroic achievement in France on 12 November 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States. On 12 November 1944, Cpl Watson, with utter disregard for his own safety, voluntarily and unhesitatingly, in the face of intense enemy mortar and artillery fire, advanced to an isolated mortar observation post to direct effective mortar fire against the enemy positions. The outstanding bravery, aggressiveness, and sincere devotion to duty displayed by Cpl Watson reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States. Entered military service from Pennsylvania.

IV. AWARD OF PURPLE HEART (OAK LEAF CLUSTER): By direction of the President, under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, in addition to the Purple Heart and bronze Oak Leaf Cluster previously awarded, a second bronze Oak Leaf Cluster is awarded S Sgt Vincent W. McNulty, 33323247, Inf, for wounds received as a result of enemy action in France on 19 November 1944. Entered military service from Pennsylvania.
